

Spirit Release Therapy Cancellation Policy

- Sessions cannot be refunded once payment is made. This includes cancellations, rescheduling, or change of mind.
- Payment confirms your booking and alerts the facilitator to begin preparing the session energetically.
- Spirit Release Therapy is a remote healing process that starts soon after booking. The session may be in progress even if no specific date or time has been scheduled.
- All bookings are final. This ensures the practitioner can focus fully on providing each session with the care and attention it requires.
- By completing your booking, you agree that the session is non-refundable and accept this cancellation policy.
